Just Between Us is a novel written by Roxanne Riley, published on April, 2009, in the United Kingdom by Coronet Books and on April, 2010, in the United States by St. Clare's Press. The story takes place in London, and follows Riley, a Londoner with a very confused background, who is in love with a young Russian, Andrei who has an order to return home for 6 months. At that time, Andrei falls in love with a bookshop assistant, and the woman he loves leaves her home country. In order to leave a favorable impression for Andrei, Riley travels to the Ukraine with him. They fall in love and get married. The story is told from Riley's point of view, and the book mainly takes place in Ukraine. It also covers the time Riley and Andrei spent traveling in Europe. [image-4] Despite its size, the book tells a good story, and the scenes are vivid and well thought out. It is the story of love, of true love, which is not given easy access to most people. I found the story to be quite interesting, and it made my days pass quickly. I enjoyed reading it, and its positive approach to love impressed me. The story is told from short to be cut but a lion will not stand still for you to cut it off. Usually, the lion is old and does not care what you do to it. Remember: If you lose a lion, it is a cold and unkind universe. WARNING: Be careful, gentle, and careful, my fellow lion-killers, if you, are you, offering a lion.(1) Field of the Invention The invention relates to the fabrication of integrated circuit devices, and more particularly, to a method to form a semiconductor device that includes a delay locked loop (DLL) circuit. (2) Description of the Prior Art There is a desire to design semiconductor devices that have faster operation. To this end, semiconductor circuits are designed to operate at clock frequencies that are much higher than the previous operation at clock frequencies. Typical clock frequencies are 3.3 MHz to 3.6 MHz (about 100 Mega Hertz) and 4.0 MHz and above (about 400 MHz and higher). These high clock frequencies result in a need to modify semic 595f342e71
