The campaign advocated educational opportunities for young autistic people and an end to. "How many people are going to fall through the cracks?" Walsh said. "Is insurance company A going to make a promise to you and then just do whatever they want and when it's time to pay back you? If I don't get a penny out of insurance company A, I'm going to go straight to insurance company B. It's really that simple." Walsh's measure would make it harder for insurance companies to drop current enrollees. It would require insurers to "honor all of the coverage promises that insurance company A made to an existing customer and which a previous insurance company A made to that customer." The problem is that the Senate bill does not restrict insurance companies to selling only one insurance product — typically a high-deductible plan. Thus, individual states could pass laws to help people keep their current coverage even if their old insurance was sold to a new company. This problem has bedeviled the House: Rep. Joseph J. Pitts (R-Pa.) has introduced a similar bill, and last week, in a back-room meeting with conservatives, House leaders promised the measure would get a hearing.Q: Spotify app crashing when user joins and disconnects In our current live version of our iOS app, a user joins the app and exits it, and the Spotify app instantly closes. The error message that appears in the terminal is: -[__NSCFDictionary initWithMutableMutableContainers] -[__NSCFDictionary autorelease] _OBJC_CLASS_$_SBJsonParser However, if the user is using a different iOS version (11.3.1), the app will just crash. There's no error message. The user can't tell what happened to cause it, but if we can get the user to get the error message, we might be able to find out what happened. Any ideas
