Q: Which version of commit message to use when requesting merge? I'm trying to learn how to use e-mail as a way to request a git merge. Is there a convention I should follow that will make sure my message gets read? I see this screen: Which version should I choose for the subject? There is no "New version" option in the subject field.

A: There is no requirement that you use one of those two options, although it doesn't hurt (and is allowed).

Subject: Merge branch

'branchname' of git.github.com into master. Or Subject: Merge branch 'branchname' into master. Read the instructions as you'd read any other mailing list. What option in the pop-up for "issue body"? For GitLab (and GitHub pages) you choose the second option Then you write your message, usually in Markdown. If you haven't been writing code, and have only been sending e-mails, you'd write: Hello, I

A federal judge on Thursday gave Mr. Arpaio nearly six months to turn over the documents, which he planned to do by January. The order was the latest decision in a long-running lawsuit by a group of voters who accused Mr. Arpaio and the Maricopa County Sheriff's Office of illegally targeting Latinos for traffic stops. The lawsuit was first filed in 2012 in the middle of Mr. Arpaio's re-election campaign. It was not part of an ongoing federal criminal investigation into Mr. Arpaio's staff, as Mr. Stapley suggested, and a Justice Department spokeswoman declined to comment on the case. A Department of Justice official confirmed that they had filed a brief in support of the plaintiffs, but would not elaborate. Mr. Arpaio's office said it was disappointed. "The government has committed to continue to vigorously defend against the allegations of the civil lawsuit,” Rebecca Ahn, a spokeswoman, said in a statement. Mr. Stapley said he took no pleasure in filing the request. “It’s really the job of the court to make sure that our constituents’ civil rights are being upheld,” he said. Mr. Arpaio has had a long and contentious relationship with the Justice Department. In a 2012 order, the department rejected a civil rights suit against the sheriff filed by the same group of voters, finding that the suit was barred by an administrative exhaustion statute that gives county and state officials time to hear lawsuits before the Justice Department.

Judge Sinema has been especially critical of Mr. Arpaio, calling him a “flagrant lawbreaker” in an order last year that granted voting rights to the county’s mostly Hispanic population. The judge has also ruled that Mr. Arpaio violated a federal criminal statute and has repeatedly ordered him to abide by a 2011 Justice Department order requiring that the sheriff allow for electronic monitoring of deputies in his jails. The state has a third-party monitoring program in place, but Mr. Arpaio has refused to allow it into

Q: Where can I download the Developer Disk Image for iPod Touch 5th

Generation? Where can I download the Developer Disk Image for iPod Touch 5th Generation? A: If you are already jailbroken, you can use DFU mode to install the SDK. There is a guide on the iDownload blog that explains how to install the SDK over WPS. You can also install the SDK with "iOS SDK App distribution", a new app in the App Store. A tutorial on Macworld A: If you want to get the device offline, then you can use Xcode 5's new feature to install an app on the device without having to have internet connection. Go to "Downloads" in Xcode, and then press "Scheme", you'll find "iOS Device" app in the list. Press "Install" to proceed with the installation. This invention relates generally to the sorting of cards of various types and, more particularly, to a machine for sorting cards of different sizes in accordance with a pre-set plan. There have been many different types of card sorting machines. For example, U.S. Pat. No. 4,051,494 discloses a card sorting machine for storing cards in a predetermined pattern so that they can be later sorted to deliver those cards in a desired order. U.S. Pat. Nos. 4,320,938 and 4,339,159 disclose two machines for sorting cards into predetermined patterns for later sortation. U.S. Pat. No. 4,386,505 is directed to a card sorting machine for sorting cards into predetermined patterns for later sortation. U.S. Pat. Nos. 3,311,698 and 3,312,401 disclose card sorting machines having front and rear storage bins. It is desirable to provide a machine for sorting cards of different sizes. Preferably, the machine should be able to select cards that have been fed to it from a station in an array, having cards placed side by side, and sort them into a predetermined arrangement. It
