LOUIS, MO (KPLR) - A woman is speaking out about her horrific experience after she was nearly beaten to death by a guard while she was inside of the Jefferson City Correctional Center. Patricia Pearce told KPLR on Wednesday that she was beaten and verbally abused by the state, and that the beating left her with broken bones. She said guards should all be fired. "I was beaten. They did all they could to hurt me," Pearce said. "I am now in pain. They are doing all they can to say I am lying and they are fixing to beat me to death. I can't take this anymore. I just can't take this. And I am sad." Pearce has a concussion, multiple broken ribs, and a concussion from the beating. She told KPLR that she is too traumatized to talk about what happened the night of her arrest. She said that police told her that she just had to put up with things and "grow a thicker skin." Pearce also says that she got a phone call
