4. now, you can open that png texture in paint. edit it and make the necessary changes to your liking. then save it in the same folder as the original texture and repeat the process for all textures.

5. now, you can make the next step. go to the main folder that had the textures subfolder earlier. 6. next, you can use notepad or any other text editor to create a new text file. name the file as the same as the original and put the following code in it: { pack: { pack_format: 7, description: [your custom description] } } 7. now, you can repeat the process with the remaining textures that you have not yet edited. once you are done with the remaining textures, all you need to do is replace the resource pack that you are using with the custom resource pack that you just prepared. you can either replace the resource packs texture folder or replace the resource packs meta file. this method does not allow you to edit the game files. however, this method can be used to create a base texture pack for java edition and then you can use the tools that we have mentioned in the guide. once you are done editing, make sure to replace the old resource pack with the new one. if you are on windows, you can use 7-zip to replace the files instead of using the built-in file manager. 5ec8ef588b
