

Trainer L.a Noire 1.3.2617 Cheat

This trainer is a bit picky. Along with Pokemon HeartGold and Pokemon SoulSilver, it will only allow the player to fight against the four battles from the first Gym in Black City. The four battles include: To ensure that players do not exploit this trainer by forging their info, a Charge meter is visible, and will slow down as it drains away. Once it reaches zero, the trainer will act like an ordinary Gym Leader. Pokemon Trainer 1.3.2617 One of the corner pads will let the player heal damage from normal attacks. This does not activate in every battle. However, it will work if the player has beaten all the trainers in Black City. Pokemon Trainer 2.3.2617 On a regular pad, three Pokemon will fly out and perform a simple attack. However, if the player presses both shoulder buttons or does a circular motion with the motion sensor, one Pokemon will fly out and perform a spectacular attack. The Pokeball that the Pokemon lands in will have a simple attack and it will not fill up its Charge meter. The attack will use the player's PSN ID. Pokemon Trainer 4.3.2617 The player will see a trainer who is trapped by the trainer's Pokemon. The player will not be able to battle this trainer as usual; they will be required to use special moves. Once the player defeats the Pokemon, the player can begin training. This trainer is tricky. On the bottom left of the square is a black rectangle. If the player performs a circular motion with the motion sensor, the black rectangle will light up, and the player can know the number of stars the player has obtained. After the player has acquired all 80 stars, the black rectangle will turn white, and the trainer will not move. After pressing both shoulder buttons or doing a circular motion with the motion sensor, the black rectangle will turn black again, and the trainer will give the player their final Pokémon. Another interesting thing happens when the player has 80 stars. As long as the player has 80 stars, the player can use one of the three Master Balls on any Pokemon. If one of the Pokemon is caught, the game will end, the player will be rewarded the money spent on the Master Ball, and the player will also gain an extra 20 PP.
