i have a question. since kelly's lawyers would have no reason to bring this case to court if he was never convicted or acquitted of any of the things he was found guilty of, wouldn't it be in the best interest of both the accuser and kelly to settle out of court and in kelly's favour? people who live in a bubble don't realize what it's like out here in the real world, living amongst people with mental health issues and addictions. it's hard to function and stay clean. i'm sure kelly has stuff he could take care of without ever having to leave his apartment. i think that's why he needs a program to monitor him, for the safety of his neighbors. i just read an article that said his lawyer says kelly's net worth is $50 million. how did he get that money? i can't imagine people like that are getting a real education. when i was growing up, it wasn't hard to get a scholarship to one of the best universities in the u.s. or canada. but the tuition wasn't cheap and i had to work my butt off to get a good education. and that's before you get a job and build a real career. i don't think kelly would ever be able to get a scholarship to go to school because he's a convicted felon and he's said many times he has a criminal record for several crimes. the latest batch of chapters from kells covers a whole host of new plot twists, three new characters, and the return of favorites from the past, like the stuttering pimp lucius. ifc has posted chapter 24 online for streaming, and will continue adding the new chapters week by week. kelly was convicted in 2014 of four counts of child molestation and one count of aggravated sexual assault of a child and was given five years probation. under the terms of his probation, he cannot have direct contact with minors.
